INSTRUCTORS

Kevin is a Pulitzer Prize sharing photojournalist with more than 25 years of experience with numerous newspapers in the New York City area including: The New York Times, New York Post, & New York Daily News. His aerial photography is consistently published in Newsday on Long Island. Kevin received his Private Pilot certificate in 2011 & has logged more than 725 flight hours in aerial photography.

Jerry holds an ATP with a CRJ900 type rating and has over 3,000 combined hours of flight time as a flight instructor, airline pilot, and full-time corporate pilot. He has also been in the video production business for over 20 years and currently runs a sUAS video production company when not flying as a contract pilot in central Texas.

Craig is an Airline Transport Pilot (ATP) rated aviator, retired 30-year Air Force officer and flyer, and a CFI / CFII. He has been in and around military, commercial and corporate aviation for over 3 decades. Craig graduated from the University of Iowa with a journalism degree, and worked in the broadcast news-gathering business for two TV stations for several years before committing fully to aviation.
